

TIPS FOR HELPING YOUR CHILD MEMORIZE THEIR BIBLE VERSE

- ★ Have your child write the memory verse on a sheet of paper. Cut it up word by word. Mix up the words. Have your child put the verse back in order. Great for practicing penmanship as well!
- ★ Hide individual words to the verse in your home or outside. Have your child find the words then put them in order. Great way to get exercise!
- ★ Make up hand motions to go along with the verse. This really makes kids think of the meaning behind the words.
- ★ Take one phrase at a time and repeat it over and over with your child. Once that is mastered, move on to the next phrase building on each one until he can say the entire verse. (You can make this more interesting by challenging your child to use different voices...i.e. deep, manly voice/ high squeaky voice/ cowboy voice/ slow motion voice)
- ★ Use a dry erase marker to write the verse on the child's mirror or in the bathroom.
- ★ Bounce or pass a ball back and forth, each person saying one word of the verse at a time.
- ★ Say the verse word by word going around the dinner table.
- ★ Most, importantly, discuss the meaning of the verse with your child. Have your child brainstorm ways to apply the verse to everyday life.
